Tupper, for the past few years baggage master at the local Central Vermont station, has received notice of this transfer to Burlington, where he will be night station master in the new union station. The transfer comes as a promotion to Mr. Tupper, who, before working in this city, was employed at the local station will be taken by James O'Grady, who has been located at the Junction for over a year.

Mrs. Homer A. Flint, who has been visiting her parents, ex-Congressman and Mrs. Frank Plumley, in Northfield for two weeks, left this morning to join her husband, Rev. Homer A. Flint, in Pittsburg, Pa.

C. E. Lowe left last evening for Bridgeport, Conn., where he will act as agent for Richard Blackhall of this city in securing the deed of a piece of property in Barre by J. G. Sheridan, formerly of Williamstown, to Mr. Blackhall. The property includes a house on Perrin street in Barre until recently owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Ashline. Some time ago Mr. Blackhall signed several notes for Mr. Sheridan and has been unable to secure payment for the same and several weeks ago Mr. Sheridan left for parts unknown. He was located in Bridgeport last week and agreed to sign over the property.

The Dangers of Certified Milk.

Do not believe that you are perfectly safe when using certified milk, says the current issue of Farm and Fireside. "Although certified milk has been produced for twenty-two years, its sales are much less than one per cent of the entire milk supply. The public seems unwilling to pay the extra price for certified milk, and scientists are now declaring that certified milk is not perfectly safe.

"Several milk-borne epidemics have been traced to farms where certified or inspected milk was produced, whereas only one epidemic has been traced to pasteurized milk, and that one was shown clearly to be caused by the use of improper temperature.

"The certified-milk business thus seems to have been born of financial and even philanthropic attractions."

Facts Do Not Justify "Race Suicide"

Talk. In the January Woman's Home Companion a writer says: "Some years ago there was quite a stir about race suicide. People began to say that women no longer looked upon motherhood as a glory, but considered it a burden unjustly imposed upon them. Statisticians worried us with figures, and even statesmen began to consider the subject seriously.

Writing from San Diego, Cal., where he is now making his home, M. M. Gordon, formerly an attorney of Barre, expresses his pleasure over the climatic conditions in southern California, as the people are "having beautiful summer weather and very little rain has fallen so far this season," while "we have daily fresh vegetables from the ranches." Mr. Gordon adds that the San Diego exposition is to continue for another year and that the hotels and apartment houses of the place are filled.

Arrangements for a series of tournaments in pool and cards are being made by Barre people over the climatic conditions in southern California, as the people are "having beautiful summer weather and very little rain has fallen so far this season," while "we have daily fresh vegetables from the ranches." Mr. Gordon adds that the San Diego exposition is to continue for another year and that the hotels and apartment houses of the place are filled.

A wire waste basket is serving as a cage for a new pet which attaches of the C. V. freight department are keeping in their office. Opinions differ as to the species of the creature, some pronouncing it a dove and some an owl, while at least one member of the force is of the opinion that it will sooner or later prove to be a "white elephant."

Whatever it is, it was picked up in a badly chilled condition this morning and will be entertained until well enough to shift for itself.

The remains of Mrs. Diana Thurston, widow of Alonzo Thurston, who died in Barre in 1910, arrived in the city over the Central Vermont railroad Saturday evening at 7 o'clock from Somerville, Mass., and were taken to the mortuary chapel of A. W. Badger & Co., where they resided until yesterday, when they were taken to West Topsham, in the funeral party were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mentzer of Somerville, Mass., Mrs. Edson Blanchard of Somerville, and Mrs. Frank Snow and daughter, Miss Ivis Snow, of Birmingham, Mass. Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock funeral services were held in the church at West Topsham. Rev. E. F. Newell, pastor of the Hadding Methodist church of this city officiating. Interment was made in the village cemetery.

George Laird, a quarryman residing in Graniteville, suffered a dislocation of the shoulder Saturday afternoon when the sleigh in which he and Mrs. Laird were riding caught in the railroad track at the crossing in front of Trow & Holden's office on South Main street and was tipped over. The accident occurred as Mr. and Mrs. Laird were on their way home at about 4:30 in the afternoon. Both occupants of the sleigh were thrown out, but Mrs. Laird was unhurt. It is believed that the dislocation of Mr. Laird's shoulder was caused by his efforts to stop the horse, as he was still clinging to the reins when help arrived. The injured man was taken into the office of Dr. Joe W. Jackson and the shoulder was reset, after which the man and his wife proceeded to their home in a lively rig, not choosing to drive their own team, though neither the sleigh nor the horse was injured in the mix-up.

Earl Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Williams of this city, and a graduate of Spaulding high school, promises to end his basketball career at Dartmouth college in a blaze of glory. Williams' sensational shooting in the Amherst game Saturday night enabled the Green to forge ahead and win the game by the score of 32 to 27. For the first time in eight years Dartmouth defeated Columbia at New York Friday evening, the score being 30 to 16. Here is what the New York Star said of Williams: "The brilliant star of the game was Earl Williams, the diminutive forward of the Green five. Nine baskets from the floor were his contribution and for a while he was dropping them in so fast at all angles that Harry Fisher's record of 12 field goals in one game, made a decade ago, seemed destined to be eclipsed. Williams couldn't be stopped. He shot from far and near, from straight angles to right angles, and all just swishing through the netting without touching the rim. Before the game a feminine devotee of the sport asked her escort: 'Is Columbia playing Dartmouth or Williams to-night?' As the game progressed the question seemed more like a pun than a plain inquiry. When at the final gong Williams had totalled 22 points out of the 30 made by his team, the question loomed up as a positive foreboding of what was really to take place."

Barre people will regret to learn of the death of Joseph J. Donnelly, a former resident of this city, which occurred in Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 23. Mrs. Donnelly was seriously ill with pneumonia at the time of her husband's death and her condition is still considered critical. Mr. Donnelly formerly resided on Madison avenue and for a number of years he was employed here as a section foreman. The family went to California nine years ago.

Among the visitors in the city through the week end were the following people: H. C. Tinkham of Burlington, Mrs. E. L. Baird of Portland, Me., Ernest Roberts of Danmore, Pa., Porter Perrin of Berlin, F. B. Putnam of Brattleboro, L. W. Deane of Hartford, Conn., H. W. Edson of Scottsville, N. Y., G. B. McEwan of Burlington, Miss Grace Evans of Henniker, N. H., C. B. Cutting of Monson, Mass., and H. R. Griffith of Colchester.

Of interest to people in Barre and especially to parishioners of the First Presbyterian church is the following item from the London (Ont.) Advertiser of recent date: "After 10 years of a pastorate characterized by earnest devotion to his congregation and to the development of spiritual resources, with twice the number that worshipped there upon his coming to the city, Rev. T. H. Mitchell, minister of New St. James' Presbyterian church, has announced his intention of taking leave of his congregation in February." The Advertiser accompanies the announcement with an excellent half-tone of Rev. Mr. Mitchell and goes on to speak of his services in London in laudatory tones. The pastor gives as the reason for his decision the desire to take a much needed rest. For more than eight years Rev. Mr. Mitchell was the pastor of the local Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Joseph Smith left yesterday for Springfield, Mass., where she expects to make an extended visit with relatives.

At the Vincitia club Thursday evening a smoker is to be held under the auspices of the Barre Board of Trade. Professor Alfred I. Smith of the Tuck school of administration and finance is to be the speaker and after his remarks a buffet luncheon will be served. All members of the Vincitia club and the Board of Trade are urged to attend the smoker, as Professor Smith has a message that is worth the hearing. The speaking is to begin at 8 o'clock.

Joseph Willett of Montpelier and Graniteville, inseparably grouped in the rudiments of ice skating, tried to maintain his equilibrium on the Pearl street rink Saturday afternoon and made such a failure of it that an officer was called to the scene of the merrymaking. Willett was taken to police headquarters by Chief Sinclair and this morning pleaded guilty to an intoxication charge when arraigned before Magistrate H. W. Scott. Closely following a sentence of 40 days in the county jail, Willett will serve an additional 75 days through his failure to pay the $15 fine and costs assessed him by the judge.
